PROGRAM LESSON 6 · 90 MINUTES · SCRIPT FOR PRACTICE

Lesson 6: About the Author Page

Students create the About the Author page and 3 more story pages.

Goal by the end of this lesson: 15 story pages · 19 total pages

Practice tip: read each line aloud three times. Tick a box each time you practice: ☐ ☐ ☐

Welcome

1	Welcome, Young Authors!
2	Today is a very exciting day! You will create the page that tells readers about the amazing person who wrote this book: you!
3	Now, let's take three minutes to get our creators' minds ready.

Young Author Meditation

1	Sit comfortably.
2	Close your eyes if you would like.
3	Take a slow breath in.
4	And slowly breathe out.
5	Imagine opening a magical door.
6	Behind the door is your story.
7	Who is there?
8	What do they look like?
9	What adventure is waiting for them?
10	Take one more deep breath.
11	When you are ready, open your eyes.
12	Today we begin bringing that story to life.

Teacher Lecture: the About the Author page

1	Now we are going to create your Author Pages.
2	An author page tells readers about the person who created the book, and that person is you!
3	On your author page, you can include your name, your age or grade, what you love to do, what inspired you to write this book, and a picture of yourself or something that represents you.
4	For example: Hi, my name is Uma. I am 6 years old. My favorite color is blue. I love to draw.
5	Remember, readers love to know the author behind the story.
6	Take a moment to think: what do you want your readers to know about you?
7	Now, let's begin creating your Author Pages!

Creating in Silence

1	Now we're going to play a game called Creating in Silence.
2	For the next ten minutes, our classroom will be completely quiet so everyone can focus on their own ideas.
3	Remember: no talking.
4	If you have a question, write it on your note sheet, then quietly raise your hand. I'll come help you.
5	Take a deep breath, and let the silence help your imagination. Ready? Let's begin!

Reflection

1	Raise your hand if you finished your author page and three story pages today.
2	Let's give ourselves a round of applause. Authors, thank you for your hard work today!
3	Next week, we will create one of the most challenging pages in your book: the Back Cover!
4	On the back cover, you'll write three sentences that tell readers what your story is about. Think of it as a little preview that makes people excited to read your book. Talk with your family or a good friend before our next class.

Phone call to a parent (when a student is behind)

1	Hi, is this [Parent's Name]? This is [Your Name], [Student]'s Tiny Star teacher. Do you have two minutes?
2	First, I want to tell you something great: [one specific positive from today].
3	This week, every young author is working on the author page and story pages 13 to 15, which makes 19 pages in total. There are only two lessons left. [Student] has finished [what is done], and still needs [what is left].
4	In class, I [support you gave]. At home, the most helpful thing is [one simple step].
5	Does that sound doable this week? Is there anything that makes it hard for [Student] right now?
6	Thank you so much. I'm also sending a short email with the details. See you next week!

Text message to a parent

Hi [Parent's Name], this is [Your Name], [Student]'s Tiny Star teacher. [Student] did great work today! This week's goal is the author page + story pages 13–15 (19 pages total), and [he/she] still needs to finish [what's left]. I just emailed you a few simple tips. Could you help [him/her] finish before Lesson 7? Thank you!
