PROGRAM LESSON 7 · 90 MINUTES · SCRIPT FOR PRACTICE

Lesson 7: The Back Cover

Students create the back cover and story pages 16 and 17.

Goal by the end of this lesson: 17 story pages · 22 total pages

Practice tip: read each line aloud three times. Tick a box each time you practice: ☐ ☐ ☐

Welcome

| | |
|---|---|
| 1 | Welcome, Young Authors! |
| 2 | Today we will create one of the most challenging pages in your book: the Back Cover! |
| 3 | Now, let's take three minutes to get our creators' minds ready. |

Young Author Meditation

| | |
|---|---|
| 1 | Sit comfortably. |
| 2 | Close your eyes if you would like. |
| 3 | Take a slow breath in. |
| 4 | And slowly breathe out. |
| 5 | Imagine opening a magical door. |
| 6 | Behind the door is your story. |
| 7 | Who is there? |
| 8 | What do they look like? |
| 9 | What adventure is waiting for them? |
| 10 | Take one more deep breath. |
| 11 | When you are ready, open your eyes. |
| 12 | Today we begin bringing that story to life. |

Teacher Lecture: the Back Cover

| | |
|---|---|
| 1 | Today we're going to create the back cover of your book! |
| 2 | The back cover is very important, because it helps readers decide if they want to read your story. |
| 3 | First, divide your back cover into three parts. |
| 4 | Part one, at the top: write three sentences about your story. What is your story about? Why should someone read it? Make readers curious and excited! |
| 5 | Part two, in the middle: write about yourself: what you enjoy, why you wrote this book, or something interesting about you. |
| 6 | Part three, at the bottom: leave it empty. We will use this space for the barcode and publishing information. |
| 7 | Now, let's create an exciting back cover that makes everyone want to read your book! |

Creating in Silence

| | |
|---|---|
| 1 | Now we're going to play a game called Creating in Silence. |
| 2 | For the next ten minutes, our classroom will be completely quiet so everyone can focus on their own ideas. |
| 3 | Remember: no talking. |
| 4 | If you have a question, write it on your note sheet, then quietly raise your hand. I'll come help you. |
| 5 | Take a deep breath, and let the silence help your imagination. Ready? Let's begin! |

Reflection: publishing decisions

| | |
|---|---|
| 1 | Raise your hand if you finished your back cover today. |
| 2 | By now we should have all five special pages: the front cover, full title page, dedication page, author page and back cover. |
| 3 | After you complete your book, you'll make two important publishing decisions. |
| 4 | First, you'll choose seven keywords: words people might type into Amazon or Google to find a book like yours. |
| 5 | Next, you'll decide the price of your book. Look on Amazon to see how similar books are priced. |
| 6 | Talk with your family or a good friend about these decisions before our next class. Authors, thank you for your hard work today! |

Phone call to a parent (when a student is behind)

| | |
|---|---|
| 1 | Hi, is this [Parent's Name]? This is [Your Name], [Student]'s Tiny Star teacher. Do you have two minutes? |
| 2 | First, I want to tell you something great: [one specific positive from today]. |
| 3 | This week, every young author is working on the back cover and story pages 16 and 17, which makes 22 pages in total. Next week is our last class. [Student] has finished [what is done], and still needs [what is left]. |
| 4 | In class, I [support you gave]. At home, the most helpful thing is [one simple step]. |
| 5 | Does that sound doable this week? Is there anything that makes it hard for [Student] right now? |
| 6 | Thank you so much. I'm also sending a short email with the details. See you next week! |

Text message to a parent

Hi [Parent's Name], this is [Your Name], [Student]'s Tiny Star teacher. [Student] did great work today! This week's goal is the back cover + story pages 16–17 (22 pages total), and [he/she] still needs to finish [what's left]. I just emailed you a few simple tips. Could you help [him/her] finish before Lesson 8? Thank you!
